TRI-STAR TRUST BANK ANNOUNCES STAFF PROMOTION

Tri-Star promotes Anthony Taylor to Relationship Manager.

SAGINAW, Mich. – Tri-Star Trust Bank continues to grow its leadership with the promotion of Anthony Taylor to Relationship Manager. Taylor previously served as Relationship Associate. Taylor’s recent promotion was earned by his excellent customer service and relationship building skills. Jack Kidwell, Tri-Star Senior Vice President, Relationship Officer & Director of the Philanthropic Solutions Group, had this to say about Taylor, “He has demonstrated the skills and talents that we seek in a Relationship Manager through his work. We know he will adhere to and improve our client standards.”

Taylor has been the recipient of the 2010 RUBY Award, an award which honors the area’s brightest professionals under 40 who have made their mark in their profession and are having an impact throughout the Great Lakes Bay Region. Taylor was also presented with the 2014 President’s Award in recognition of individual work and leadership on behalf of the Saginaw County Chamber of Commerce.

Beyond his duties at Tri-Star Taylor is an active participant in the community, serving on the board of directors for a number of organizations including the Saginaw – Shiawassee County Habitat for Humanity and the Saginaw Bay Symphony Orchestra. Taylor is also the immediate past Chair of the Saginaw Valley Young Professionals Network and past Saginaw Chamber of Commerce board member. His commitment to giving back to the community is what attracted him to Tri-Star. Tri-Star last year supported over 120 non-profit organizations. Taylor lives in Saginaw with his wife, Samantha, where they enjoy walking their dogs and watching the Detroit Red Wings.
